Special features add personal touch

Attention to detail was what Keith and Tanya Canfield were looking for when it came time to build their home in NE Olympia. And that's what they got when they chose MC Construction Consultants, Inc. to help them build their house.

"We had built before," Tanya says, "and we knew we needed someone who would be attentive to all the small details. We weren't from the area, and Mike was a great help to us."

The Canfields came up with the basic plan for their home, then sat down with MC Construction to talk about their interests and what they wanted in a home. The final plan combined many features that made this house extra special for Tanya and Keith.

Radiating off the main floor of the two-story entry way, the living areas are set up to provide convenient flow from one space to the next, yet glass pocket doors allow individual rooms to be closed off for privacy. The spacious, airy kitchen is perfectly suited for family dining and entertaining.

"We had the kitchen set up with two ovens and two sinks," Tanya explains. "Keith and I both like to cook, and we can work together in here. The kitchen is open to the nook and the family room, so if we have guests we can still visit while we're working away."

One special feature the Canfields added to the layout was a fireplace in the kitchen nook.

"It makes it so nice and cozy to have dinner with the fire going," Tanya says. And it adds a warm, special touch to their holiday entertaining.

One of the most luxurious spaces in the home is the large, comfortable master suite on the second floor. Not only does it have a five-piece bathroom conveniently off the bedroom, but the design includes a sitting area nestled into the windowed turreted corner of the bedroom. Perfectly suited for exercise equipment or a reading nook, this area helps the master suite become a private retreat for the Canfields.

Located on 5 1/2 wooded acres, the house's exterior of hearty brick siding blends seamlessly into the surroundings. Known for their light, airy designs, MC Construction utilized an abundance of windows in the Canfield home to catch every available glimmer of light from the property, and the end result is an open, yet cozy living space that Keith and Tanya immediately felt at home in.

MC Construction didn't stop when the house was finished, however.

"Once we were done we decided we wanted something outside," Tanya explains. "We had them come back and they built us a wonderful patio in the backyard-combination of slab and aggregate concrete-with an outdoor fireplace. It's a great place to sit and relax on fall evenings."

"They did such a great job for us," Tanya says. "When we were looking at houses to judge the quality of MC's work I would have moved into any one of them! The attention to detail and quality of the work have made us very happy."
